LINIGIL FESTIVAL

■ Linigil is a popular chicken dish from the Maguindanaon Culture in the Bangsamoro. The Talayanen people are said to be the best cooks for Linigil. Talayanen are people of the Talayan (now includes those with Talayanen roots from Guindulungan, Datu Anggal, Talitay plus other nearby places). The chicken is cooked in fresh coconut milk with PALAPA as the key seasoning and turmeric, onions, lemon grass, ginger and garlic. Palapa is made of grated coconut, sundried, fried with chillies, onions, garlic and other herbs then pounded. Linigil is more likely being served during kanduli or Thanks Giving Ceremony of Talayanen people. When you visit Talayanen communities in Maguindanan, try asking for Linigil and taste the difference.
